Note about CCAs: The CCAs are not one of the geographies for which the U.S. Census Bureau publishes data. The CCA-level data from CMAP was calculated by creating centroid points for every census block (the smallest available geography) and assigning each block to the CCA its centroid is contained in. The block-level data was then summed to produce CCA-level totals. This methodology ensures that each block's population is counted only once. It is also extremely accurate because the small size of most census blocks, and the fact that they generally do not cross roads/railways/rivers/etc., means there are very few, if any, whose population spans multiple CCAs.

 This column is a sum of the non-Hispanic population in the following racial categories: American Indian and Alaska Native; Native Hawaiian and Other Pacific Islander; Some Other Race; and, Two or More Races.*
